JUSTICE OSCAR SARAIVA LIBRARY

LIBRARY COLLECTION

The Justice Oscar Saraiva Library is located in the federal capital of Brazil, Brasília, and is housed in the Superior Court of Justice (STJ). It specializes in legal data, and plays an important role in supporting the Court's judicial and administrative activities. The up-to-date collection of the Library is open to the general public and covers all areas of Law, notably civil law and civil procedure, criminal law and criminal procedure. It comprises approximately 170 thousand bibliographic documents, mainly books, booklets, articles in periodicals, rare books, and special collections.

The rare books are subject to a special treatment and are stored in an appropriate room, with lighting, humidity, and temperature control as to meet the highest possible standards for the preservation and conservation of the books.

At the present time, three large private book collections of renowned law specialists are part of the heritage of the Library: the collections of the jurists Frederico Marques and Caio Mário da Silva Pereira, and the collection of Justice Romildo Bueno de Souza. The STJ also has a Legal Digital Library - BDJur, which offers free public access to a full text database. Its collection includes more than 100 thousand documents in several digital formats, organized by type of content, such as: administrative acts, intellectual production of the Court's Justices and employees, articles, lectures, speeches, videos etc.

ONLINE SOURCES OF INFORMATION

The STJ Library integrates the Brazilian Virtual Network of Libraries – RVBI, which gathers the collections of twelve libraries of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Branches. The research tool of the RVBI catalog allows users to search through a universe of 1.5 million documents, referring in large part to legal information, and also comprising other areas of Human and Social Sciences.

LEGAL DIGITAL LIBRARY – BDJUR

BDJur is the daily-updated institutional research repository of the STJ and includes several digital contents, in many formats, such as the administrative acts of the Court and The Brazilian National Judicial School for Formation and Development – Enfam. In addition to doctrine, lectures, speeches, videos, photographs, summaries of books acquired by the Library, and other documents published by the Court. The BDJur allows the Court's employees and external users simultaneous access with speed and visualization of the full text of documents, therefore enabling transparency and prompt response in obtaining information.

LEGAL DATABASES

The Library expands its collections of legal databases on the Court's internal website - intranet, providing internal users full text access to periodicals articles and e-books. The following databases are currently available for consultation: Governet, RT Online, Proview, HeinOnline, and the Digital Library Law Forum.

BDJur CONSORTIUM

The BDJur Consortium was established in 2005 by the STJ and encompasses digital legal libraries of organs of the Brazilian Judicial Power at federal levels, and of other public institutions that provide information on legal topics. The Consortium shares, in a single website, the digital repositories of the participating institutions, making it possible to carry out a unified research into their collections, which are built up mainly by doctrine and administrative acts of the member bodies.
