Contents

1. Jurisprudence and the Nature of Law 1
2. Dualism and Archetype 37
3. Evil Regimes and the Rule of Law 69
4. Normativity, Legality and Judgment 113
5. Ideal and Experience 145
6. Legality as a Value 169

Index 199
Table of Contents

1. Jurisprudence and the Nature of Law
   Practice and Value ........................................ 6
   The Ideality of Law ...................................... 10
   Reductivism and Idealism ................................ 14
   The Fragmentation of Inquiry: Hart .................... 21
   The Fragmentation of Inquiry: Dworkin ................ 25
   Detached or Engaged Inquiry? ......................... 31
   Practice and Ideal ..................................... 34

2. Dualism and Archetype
   Law as Instrument and as Aspiration .................. 37
   Familiar Debates ....................................... 39
   No Real Problem? ....................................... 44
   Raz on the Rule of Law .................................. 47
   Towards the Archetype .................................. 51
   A Lost Tradition ........................................ 56
   Support for the Mundane View? ....................... 59
   Asking the Right Question ............................. 63
   Eight Desiderata ....................................... 64

3. Evil Regimes and the Rule of Law
   The Concession Reading ................................ 70
   Foxes, Hedgehogs, and the Ironic Reading ........ 74
   Purposes and Moral Reasons ........................... 76
   Between Threshold and Archetype ..................... 78
   Reasons for Violence ................................... 85
   Incentives .............................................. 89
   Evil Contingencies ..................................... 93
   Managing Violence ...................................... 97
   Liberty and the Rule of Law ........................... 99
   Freedom and Rights .................................. 104
   Final Remark ......................................... 109
Table of Contents

4. Normativity, Legality and Judgment
   Harr's Middle Way
   Judgment, Legality and the Rule of Recognition
   Justification
   A Better Concept of Law

5. Ideal and Experience
   The Depth of the Ideal
   The Loss of Moral Experience
   Reflexivity and Legal Thought
   Refining the Archetype
   Doctrinal Scholarship

6. Legality as a Value
   Pluralism and Moral Knowledge
   Conflict and Moral Knowledge
   The Becoming of Law
   Fidelity to Law
   Justice and Fidelity to Law

Index